FIVE QUALITIES

To become a good student, one should follow the precepts laid down by the Vedas:

काक चेष्टा, बको ध्यानं, स्वान निद्रा तथैव च ।
अल्पहारी, गृहत्यागी, विद्यार्थी पंच लक्षणं ॥

1. Have the of a crow (remember the story of a crow, rising the level of water in a pot by putting pebble into it) who is always aware of everything around it, where and what appears to eat etc).
2. Have the concentration like a crane (who stands motionless at the bank of a lake and when a fish is passing by, it quickly catches it).
3. Have shallow sleep like a dog (who immediately wakes up if anyone comes close).
4. Always eat limited quantities of food (fill half of your stomach with food, a quarter with water and leave one quarter empty).
5. Renounce the attachment to your house and family (do not call home everyday and narrate long stories of how you are, what you were eating, what your friends do and so on).

These are the five signs of a good student.

A student should always try to understand what is the meaning of the teachings which he or she gets from the acharya like in the following story:

A guru instructed his disciple who was a bit dull to guard a pot with yogurt from crows. The disciple took a wooden stick and sat down by the pot. When some crow came near, he would chase it away. But when a cat came, he freely let it eat the entire yogurt from it. After some time Guruji returned and, upon seeing the empty pot, started inquiring about the yogurt. The boy answered that he was protecting it from crows but then a cat came and ate all of it. "And why didn't you chase it away," Guruji asked. "Because I was told to guard it only from crows," was the answer. That is not the way to understand our teaching, it is blind.

ABOUT ARUNACHAL PRADESH

Arunachal Pradesh, meaning "Land of the Rising Sun," for long has been a recognized region of the Indian sub-continent, receiving mention in such Ancient Indian literature as the Kalika-purana & the epics Mahabharata & Ramayana. Formerly known as the North East Frontier Agency (from the British colonial era), the area was part of Assam until it was made the Indian Union Territory of Arunachal Pradesh in 1972, & in 1987 it became an Indian state.

Arunachal Pradesh constitutes a mountainous area in the extreme northeastern part of the country & is bordered by the kingdom of Bhutan to the west, the Tibet Autonomous Region of China to the north, Myanmar (Burma) & the Indian state of Nagaland to the south & southeast, & the Indian state of Assam to the south & southwest.

Smart City: Pasighat is the oldest town of Arunachal Pradesh, founded in 1911 A.D. by the British as a gateway to administrative convenience of the greater Abor Hills and the north area in general. Nestled along the shores of beautiful mighty Siang River (also known as the Brahmaputra), Pasighat sits as the 'Gateway to Arunachal Pradesh' & it is blessed with an enchanting scenic beauty of lush forests, majestic mountains, sparkling waterfalls & splendidly gorgeous hanging bridges.

Pasighat is the education capital of Arunachal Pradesh. The significant development in Pasighat that came after that was the Apex Professional University being established on 10th May 2013. The Government of India included Pasighat in the Smart Cities Mission development scheme in June, 2017. Pasighat is well connected by Air, train and bus from Guwahati. With the inauguration of Bogibeel bridge over river Brahmaputra, it is a journey of 2-3 hours from Dibrugarh.

APU TEACHING METHODOLOGY

APU BELIEVES THAT EVERY STUDENT IS UNIQUE & HAS A PREFERRED LEARNING STYLE

Transformative Learning Experience

The Gurukul Academic Framework is based on the premise that every student is unique. Each student has his/her own characteristics in terms of Prakriti and Tatva, life experiences, learning styles and approaches to future career - related actions.

Gurukul Academic System is the process of sharing ideas, knowledge and experience. Instructions are designed to engage students in learning experiences that enable them to not only learn concepts but also to inculcate various competencies which are quintessential for students to become professional & leaders of tomorrow.

Gurukul Academic System allows students to engage in positive ways that lead to the development of their planning & organizational skills, their ability to teamwork to synergise, and the art of collaborating for giving and receiving feedback, leading to enhanced interpersonal relationships. The mechanism of Gurukul Academic System is designed to support every student to realize their overall potential mentally, emotionally & physically.

In our block Teaching System, student take only one course at a time, fully immersing themselves in that course. This approach enables a student to learn more with less stress, with deeper understanding and better retention of the course material. Student will also enjoy stronger connections with the teacher and classmates- & they'll never have to contend with a nerve-wracking finals week!

APU places below the three major learning styles and ways in which the curriculum is designed.

Visual Learning Style (VLS)

Visual Learning Style has a preference for seen or observed things, including pictures, diagrams, demonstrations, displays, handouts, films, flip-chart, etc. These students will use phrases such as 'MAY I SEE IT, 'let's have a look at that' and will be able to give their best and / or perform a new task after reading the instructions or watching someone else doing it first. These are the students who will work from listed and guided directions and instructions. They are more likely to understand it and recall it better later.

Auditory Learning Style (ALS)

Auditory Learning Style has a preference for the sharing of information through listening, to the spoken words, of self or others, of sounds and noises. These Students will use phrases such as 'tell me', 'let's talk it over' & will be best able to perform a new task after listening to instructions from an expert. These are the students whose comfort level in the classroom is high with spoken instructions & can recollect or retrieve all the information for their enhanced learning. Students learn best by listening to music, video clips, conversations, lectures & contributing to discussions.

Kinesthetic Learning Style (KLS)

Kinesthetic Learning Style has a preference for physical experience - touching, feeling, holding, doing, practical hands-on experiences. These students will use phrases such as 'let me try', 'how do you feel?' and will be best able to perform a new task by going ahead and trying it out, learning as they progress. These are the students who like to experiment, hands-on, and never look at the instructions first!

GURUKUL ACADEMIC FRAMEWORK

LEARN HOW TO THINK, RATHER THAN WHAT TO THINK.

CENTER OF EXCELLENCE FOR INDIAN KNOWLEDGE SYSTEM

INDIAN civilization is always associated with great value to knowledge—witnessed through its amazingly large body of intellectual texts, the world's largest collection of manuscripts, and its attested tradition of texts, besides thinkers & schools in diverse realms of knowledge. Three terms are closely connected in all discussions of knowledge - Daršana, Jñāna and Vidyā. Daršana, meaning 'philosophy', is the point of view, leading to Jñāna, the 'knowledge'. When knowledge gathered about a particular domain is organized and systematized for purposes of, say, reflection & pedagogy, it is called Vidyā, the 'discipline'.

The entire body of organized knowledge is divided into two sets - Parā Vidyā and Aparā Vidyā. The first kind of knowledge is observational and is gained by the indriya (senses); the latter is experiential and is gained by the inner self as draṣṭā (the seer). In one individual, the whole cognizing self is "bahirmukhī" directed towards and involved in the outer world; in the other, the whole cognizing self is "antarmukhī" (turned inwards). To acquire the first kind of knowledge, only the sensory apparatus, including the mind, has to be prepared. But, to acquire the second kind of knowledge, the aspirant has to go through a process of preparation i.e., Sadhanā (for knowledge-acquisition).

In Indian tradition, knowledge has been constituted, stored and maintained in the framework of the verbal culture. According to Bhartrhari, knowledge is constituted in our inner self. There is the "antarajñāna", constituted by the input of the senses (indriya), processed by the mind (mana) and the intellect (buddhi), and finally constituted knowledge exists as our transformed, alert self- citta. (Vākyapadiya).

APU's Centre of Excellence for Indian Knowledge System is approved and funded by the Innovation Cell, Ministry of Education (MoE) at AICTE, New Delhi as an IKS Centre for Indian Psychology for developing and conducting various courses and research in order to create experts in the field of Psychology & to disseminate Indian Knowledge across the globe.
